TIPS FROM THERAPEUO DENTAL

Do you Floss?

- ▶ Is that a dreaded question you hate hearing from us?
- ▶ Flossing is a really simple and effective method of removing food particles from between teeth.
- ▶ Consider this: Fibrous food tends to lodge itself conveniently between our teeth.
- ▶ Cleaning out the lodged food particles helps preventing cavities forming in between teeth
- ▶ These cavities are difficult to detect clinically and sometimes are only seen after a lot of damage has already taken place!
- ▶ Flossing should be carried out once at night every day to maintain good level of oral hygiene.
- ▶ There are many kinds of floss available such as waxed, non waxed threaded and dental tape.
- ▶ We at Therapeuo Dental highly recommend the use of non waxed dental tape to be used as floss.
- Follow us:  @therapeuodental for a cool video tutorial on how to floss.

- ▶ Brushing may not be effective in removing these food particles

THERAPEUO Transformation of the month

Here's to our happy patient
Mr. Ompal Khosla.

He had severe pain in his upper teeth while he was travelling and needed treatment ASAP!

Following a couple of root canals
and awesome looking full ceramic crowns he is back to normal function and is very comfortable.

As per protocol we call all our patients after any procedure.

Mr Ompal on answering the phone immediately said the following,

“ NO PAIN, NO PAIN!!” He further made our day by saying, “Your treatment and services are excellent! Thank you for everything”.

We're glad we could be of service to such a gentleman. Thank you Mr. Khosla for having faith in us.

QUESTIONS PLEASE!

How often should i get a clean up done?

We advise a clean up once every 6 months. However, in some cases this may done more often such as every three months or sometimes even delayed to upto once a year.
